

Section VII: Contract Terms and Conditions

Bank Guarantee Forms

Preamble

This section of the Procurement Document contains model forms of bank demand guarantees, which may be required to be provided by the successful Participant under the Contract as the security for proper performance under the Contract, as well as in support of advance payment and retention money payment.

The models provided herewith are based on the Uniform Rules for Demand Guarantees, as set forth by the International Chamber of Commerce publication URDG 758.

Unless issued via SWIFT, in which case it shall include an appropriate SWIFT identification code, a bank guarantee shall be issued by a guarantor on stationery with its letterhead clearly showing the guarantor's complete name and address, and bear the identification number. The guarantee shall be signed by an authorised person and sealed, as appropriate.

In the forms provided, the terms "Principal" and "Beneficiary" shall refer to appropriate parties to the Contract, which the issuing bank may choose to use in a guarantee. Such references may be made to the "Supplier", the "Contractor", the "Consultant", the "Provider", the "Purchaser", the "Employer" and/or the "Client", as appropriate.

The Bank shall be consulted if alternative internationally recognised model forms of the guarantees are proposed to be used by the parties to the Contract.
